The image displays a 100x100 grid of 10,000 small icons. Each icon is either a black triangle pointing upwards or a black circle with a white outline. The distribution of these icons is non-uniform, creating a visual gradient. The top half of the grid (rows 1-50) is predominantly composed of black circles, while the bottom half (rows 51-100) is predominantly composed of black triangles. This arrangement creates a smooth transition from a field of circles at the top to a field of triangles at the bottom.
